Regardless of where you deploy, Vissensa can help with the design, install, support and management of the environment under strict agreed SLA's.

Our success is our ability to map the right technology to the business requirement and support the solution with our manned 24/7 help desk and monitoring services that can provide onsite as well as remote engineering support when needed. Our team is well versed with dovetailing into your own IT team, assisting with specific aspects of a project, troubleshooting, deployment or taking on the entire management of an IT environment.

All businesses are looking for improvements and efficiencies in today's marketplace, but many are held back by the belief that cloud and as a service models, can't be deployed in their organisation.

Vissensa has helped migrate some of the most challenging deployments to hybrid or fully outsourced managed services. Contact us today for an informal chat on how you could benefit from the latest technology in your business.
